

CONFIDENTIAL

Journal - Office of Legislative Counsel
 Tuesday - 12 June 1973

Page 3

25X1

9. [REDACTED] In a conversation with Guy McConnell, Senate Appropriations Committee staff, I told him that [REDACTED] would like to get together with him for lunch this week if at all possible to go over some matters with him. McConnell said his schedule this week was extremely tight and suggested that we check with him next week.

25X1A

25X1

10. [REDACTED] Talked to Jack Marsh, Assistant Secretary of Defense (Legislative Affairs), who said that to the best of his knowledge Defense had now provided all the answers to questions raised during the posture hearings some weeks ago and the way was clear for Mr. Schlesinger's confirmation hearing.

25X1A

11. [REDACTED] [REDACTED] and I lunched with Guy McConnell, Clerk, Senate Appropriations Committee, with whom we discussed the possibility of a visit to certain overseas stations during the August recess. He felt that this matter should first be taken up with Jim Calloway, Counsel to the Committee.

25X1A

[REDACTED] and I met with Calloway and raised the question of a possible visit to some overseas stations by either him or McConnell during the August recess. He reacted enthusiastically saying he thought he and McConnell should both take advantage of this opportunity, probably during the latter part of August but he would check with Chairman McClellan.

25X1

12. [REDACTED] Met with John Goldsmith, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, in response to his request and explained to him in some detail why we could not agree to publication of all the Penkovskiy material. Goldsmith had received a query on this subject from Senator William Scott.

25X1

13. [REDACTED] Briefly explained to Jim Calloway, Counsel, Senate Appropriations Committee, some complications which had arisen in our efforts to dispose of Southern Air Transport.

CONFIDENTIAL